

Cosmology:

PHYSICS AND PHILOSOPHICAL PERSPECTIVES

April 20, 2005 • Center for Continuing Education • University of Notre Dame

Cosmology is one area of fundamental physics where the complementary perspectives of the physicist and the philosopher of physics have proven to be especially valuable. At Notre Dame, in particular, cosmology has long been a place where the research trajectories of physicists and philosophers have intersected. This conference celebrates that heritage at Notre Dame by bringing together seven scholars whose work has contributed to the ongoing dialogue between the two disciplines.

The meeting will take place on April 20, 2005 at the Center of Continuing Education, McKenna Hall, room 100, starting at 9:00am.
