

Spring Art 2 Science @ Center for the Homeless

After a successful trial at the South Bend Center for the Homeless in the fall, we partnered to develop a semester long evening program for the K-5 youth. Attendance fluctuated between 10-15 students a week.

During the program, students completed astronomy based art projects and learned valuable problem solving skills through make-n-take science projects such as mini-bots. The program culminated with making and enjoying liquid nitrogen ice cream.

Art 2 Science programming will continue this summer at El Campito and during the week-long camp at the University of Notre Dame.
